Re: Fees for Planning Zoning, Historic Review

Fees are currently set in the existing Zoning Law, however the new Zoning Ordinance has fees set by Resolution of the Council. This makes it easier to change the fees in the future, and cheaper since we do not have to pay each time to update ecode.

Fees in other municipalities, along with our knowledge of the amount of work required for each request were analyzed by staff and based on this review, the accompanying Resolution's fees have been proposed. There is no fee for Historic Review because typically that fee has been set low to offset the additional burden of review for properties within the district. Because that low fee does not cover costs, it was decided to eliminate a Historic Review fee.

This Resolution and the new fees will not take effect until the effective date of the new Zoning Ordinance, which is when the Local Law rescinding the existing Ordinance is filed with the Secretary of State. Until that time the Council does not have authority to set fees by Resolution, but we need them in place for when the old Ordinance is rescinded and the new Ordinance becomes effective.
